'Approved For Release 2005/11/21: CIA-RDP77M00144R000600090002-8

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20505

1 December 1975

Mr. John F. Galuardi Regional Administrator, Region 3 General Services Administration Washington, D. C. 20405

Dear Jack:

I must advise you of the Agency's formal exception to the release to the Public Works Committees of the Congress of the Prospectus PVA 00891 relating to proposed alterations to the Agency's Headquarters Building at Langley, Virginia. The Agency's objections are based upon the following considerations:

- No Agency personnel at any level had the opportunity to review the document or were even aware of its preparation. This failure to coordinate obviously precluded appropriate prior notification to congressional committees responsible for Agency overview, and led to many of the other exceptions delineated below.
- The Agency continues to maintain its position that the Public Buildings Act, the parent Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949 and the subsequent amendments thereto are not fully, if at all, applicable to the Agency Headquarters Building. (This position, stated in a 6 November 1973 letter from the Director of Central Intelligence to the Administrator of General Services, is based upon specific excepting legislative language, legal interpretation of other legislation, sources of funding, and prior correspondence between our agencies. Verbal agreement exists between senior implementing officers of our agencies that, at least, "... conflict in legislation exists ..."). To this end, it is not clear which, if any, facilities modifications to the Agency Headquarters Building are subject to review and approval by the Public Works Committees; committees that heretofore have not had funding or overview responsibility for the Agency.
- The Prospectus contains a number of factual errors, perhaps the most embarrassing of which is the entirely extraneous and misleading citation of personnel and office space figures for some total statistical area of Metropolitan Washington. These errors, plus the basic release of this document, caused extensive national news media coverage and numerous telephonic inquiries to the highest executive levels of the Agency.

- Approved For Release 2005/11/21 : CIA-RDP77M00144R000600090002-8

It is requested that you advise the Public Works Committees of the Congress that the Prospectus was submitted without the prior knowledge or review of the Agency or its appropriate congressional committees. The Public Works Committees should also be advised that the Prospectus contains substantive errors which must be corrected before resubmission.

It is also requested that immediate steps be taken to develop procedures to preclude future unilateral release of this type documentation. Such procedures should include parameters for discussion of relative responsibilities for facilities control, alteration, and maintenance and operation which would ultimately culminate in resolution of the apparent conflict in operating responsibilities of our respective agencies.

If	Ţ	Please advise me when the above requested actions can be effected. can provide further clarification, please call me
	Sincerely,
		· · ·
		Director of Logistics
